THE Chicago Inter-Ocean, with grievous frankness, gracefully yields to Cincinnati the honor of being the "Queen City of Song." It claims for its own city preeminence as a wheat market, and as the largest hog packing place in the world, but her people can't sing. They are too busy to learn. They haven't any hall large enough to hold a chorus and an audience at the same time. They are miserably destitute of Reuben Springers. The climate is not conducive to the breeding of men of such magnificent generosity and public spirit. Some months ago it was proposed by another leading Chicago journal that a marauding expedition be sent out-a kind of buccaneering enterprise-from the city of lakes to the Queen City-the Modern Paris-for the purpose of abducting a brace or two of our princely gift enterprise men like Sinton, Springer, Probasco and others. Without doing anything to alarm these gentlemen their friends and the police force quietly took steps to thwart the attempt had it been undertaken. It was a desperate project; but the Chicagonians had hitherto been so successful in "cutting it fat" in their wheat and pork dealings with the unsophisticated denizens of Cincinnati that they were ready for anything bold and bad to enable them to build a fountain or found a Music Hall.

ENGLISH agricultural authorities have come to the conclusion that every impediment that unnecessarily hampers the farming interests of the nation in its competition with the rest of the world, must be speedily removed. This means in effect that the facility for the sale and transfer of land must be simplified and made cheaper-that encumbered and entailed estates must be broken up into small holdings which shall be worked by the owners thereof in their own interests and not in the in-tal to the United States and Canada must be checked by an entire and immediste change in the land laws of the Kingdom, and in the system of cultivation. This change is being forced upon the English people by the introduction of foreign meats, cereals, most of which is produced by the United States. The direct benefit of this to the consumers of Europe is conceded, but it strikes at the root of all feudal land tenures, and will quickly wipe out of existence the heriditary landed aristocracy. Mr. James Caird, in a letter to the London Times, acknowledges that America is gaining control of the meat and cereal market, and can maintain it even at lower prices: and sees nothing for English agriculturists to do but to turn their attention "to the production of articles which will not bear long storage or carriage, such as milk, fresh butter, early vegetables, hay, straw, potatoes," and general truck and market gardening, and even that this may be successful, "all the interests in land, whether of the owner, occupier or laborer, most be disenthralled."

NEWSPAPER MORALITY.

Complaint is often made by self-repecting and decent people of a tendency but too often indulged in by certain newspapers of pandering to the prurient tastes and groveling instincts of a class of persons who are no credit to themselves or to decent society. The fault soon to be in time for the Greenback of which these newspapers stand charged consists in raking the unwholesome calendars of crime and immorality of this and other countries for base misdeeds of which the details with all their hideous nakedness are paraded in their columns, so colored as to attract the eye of the evil inclined and only too often of the innocent. We hear almost every day some one remark of these pestiferous publications: "Oh! I never allow one to enter my house." But others do, and in every great city of the country one or more of these moral upas trees is permitted to grow and flourish and cast its deadly shadow upon society. Who can estimate the damage done to the impressionable hearts of youth, or to those even of maturer years, at this parade of crime and vice, and every nameless indecency that the criminal courts of the country uncover, in the pages of a daily newspaper, to In the eyes of New Yorkers the father be laid upon the table of respectable of his country was a small man compared families, or that is to be read in the home to Lieutenant Commander Gorringe, of circle before a group of virtuous young the navy, who has successfully floated men and maidens and little innocent he is nominated, over eighteen hundred children? But how shall this evil be prevented? Perhaps it can not be wholly prevented, but it can assuredly be greatly mitigated, and could be cured entirely if journals that persist in such vile-ness could be made unprofitable where apt alliteration does not apply but he has done more than all the others. to their conductors by being let severely alone until they exclude these glaring immoralities from their to-day, right under the shadow of the columns. Newspapers are generally Republican wigwam, where she will published to make their owners profit. If vileness in their pages fill their purses faster, there are always conscienceless publishers as there are men in other pursuits, devoid of principles, whose reigious creed is to make money, honestly if they can, but-to make money. When men of decency and substance and selfrespect cease buying or sustaining these sheets with their business patronage and MINING for gold is being conducted leave them to the exclusive support of with considerable vigor in Georgia. SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

The English Papers of This Morning. The Enquirer says: The people under-stand, however, that the Republican party s the party of the Chinaman. Organized is the party of the Chinaman. Organized originally as an anti-slavery party, we find it now arrayed in earnest advocacy of the only system of slavery which is tolerated upon American soil—Coolie slavery. By its persistent opposition to all legislation against the importation of Coolies; by the veto of its President of a bill passed by a Dem cratle Congress designed to restrict such importation; by the shuffling of its Secretary of State in the matter of modification of the treaty so as to secure protection; by the treaty so as to secure protection; by the unjust discrimination of its Secretary of the Treasury in favor of Chinese tobacco in my practice with very antisfactory reterests of a grasping landlord, and that dealers in San Francisco; by the general suits. I prescribe it in all cases when ton-the drain of agricultural labor and capipressions of its leading men—that party has placed itself squarely upon the record as the champion of the Six Chinese Comhas placed itself squarely upon the record as the champion of the Six Chinese (om-panies, and the advocate and supporter of the Coolie traffic in the United States.

The Gazette says: Our Chicago special states the important fact that a truce has been made betwen the Granters and the supporters of Blaine and Sherman with regard to the organizing of the Convention, by which it is agreed that Mr. Cameron, in presiding while the Convention elects a Temporary President, shall recognize dele gates as they individually or collectively wish to vote, and shall not require that they shall vote together as a unit, as the majority of each State delegation shall dictate, in those cases in which State Conventions have prescribed this unity. If, as our correspondent supposes, the result of the truce shall be the election of an anti-Granter as Temporary President, then we suppose the representative rights of dele gates will be allowed in all the proceedings of organizing the Convention—the appointment of committees and the tion of permanent President, and that the question of the unit rule will not come up until the Committee on Rules shall report or possibly not till it shall be raised by dissenting delegates in the voting on the nom-ination.—The revival of business prosperity in England, of which we had announce-ments last winter, does not turn out to be permanent, Mr. Jennings, the London correspondent of the New York World, who to write intelligently, says toat every where he hears the same story of continuall declining trade and renewed dis-appointments. In Sheffield and Manchesthere have been what proved mere "spurts" of renewed activity, while he doubts whether the trade of London has ever been worse in this generation.

The Commercial says: The increase Republican votes in Ohio from 1860 to 1876 amounted to 108,889, being an average of 27,222 for each four years—or from one Presidential election to another. The increase in the Demi cratic vote during the same period was 112,265, or 28,066 for each period of four years. In 1868 Grant re-ceived 280,167 votes, which was less than the average increase over the vote of Mr. Lincoln in 1864, and in 1872 Grant received 281,852 votes, only 1.685 more than in 1868, when, compared with the vote of 1864, and allowing the average increase, his vote shuld have been over 305,000. Now take the Democratic vote of 1868, which was 238,621, add the average four years in-crease of 28,000, and to this add the 25,000 Republican votes actually cast for Greeley, and it would have given him a majority of 10,000 over Grant. Hayes car ried the state in 1876 b. only 7,000 majo: ity, while Grant carried it in 1872 by over 27,000, but Haves received 48,846 votes in 1876 than Grant did in 1872, show ing the regular increased Republican vota the Liberal Republican votes that went off to Greeley in 1872. That election of 1876 discloses another matter that the Grant men should not lose sight of. The Democratic vote for Mr. Tilden was 323,182, or an increase of 78,861 over the vote for Greeley, and a majority of 40,330 over Grant's vote of 1872.—There are in the lists published this morning, of Ohio Re-publicans who will not vote for Grant if
